The Justice Department today agreed the merger would not significantly reduce competition. Canadian authorities approved the merger March 14. "We are pleased with the decision ... that the global home-appliance industry is open and competitive," said Jeff M. Fettig, Whirlpools chairman and CEO. "This transaction will result in better products, quality and service, as well as cost efficiencies, which will enhance our ability to succeed in the competitive global home-appliance industry. Consumers will benefit from a combined Whirlpool and Maytag business."The Justice Department said that although the combined company will be producing half of the dishwashers in the United States, an investigation by its Antitrust Division found that at least five other companies are well established in the U.S., thus making it unlikely the merged company would be able to drastically raise prices.The combined entity is expected to control more than 70 percent of the clothes washers and dryers.Whirlpool is the largest appliance manufacturer in the U.S. Maytag is number three, behind GE Consumer products.Whirlpool had agreed not to complete the transaction until March 30, to give the Justice Department time to review the deal.Whirlpool-Maytag Merger Gets Final OK...Read lessRead moreFebruary 1, 2006 Maytag is recalling about 2.3 million Maytag and Jenn-Air brand dishwashers because of a fire hazard.Liquid rinse-aid can leak from its dispenser and come into contact with the dishwasher's internal wiring which can short-circuit and ignite, posing a fire hazard, the company said.Maytag has received 135 reports of dishwasher fires, resulting in product and/or property damage. Four injuries have been reported, including three reports of smoke inhalation and one serious hand laceration when operating a fire extinguisher to put out a fire in the dishwasher.The recall involves Maytag and Jenn-Air under counter or portable plastic tub dishwashers. The dishwashers have black, white, almond, bisque and stainless steel front panels.
